The London Times on the Fenians.

Now that America is once more at liberty for foreign enterprises, we may be excused if we cast an anxious look at that mysteri-ous organization of which we have been so often reminded during the last four years. It is not pleasant to be informed on respec-table authority that almost every Irishman in the United States has joined a society pledged to annex Canada and to liberate Ireland at our very first difference with the Government at Washington, or the slightest tiff with our imperial neighbor. Since the organization is proclaimed to be no secret and to have proved a valuable anxiety. and to have proved a valuable auxiliary to the Federal cause, we might venture to ask a few questions as to a movement which boasts to be a preparation for war with this country.

We address ourselves to the New York Herald, and, as we have done it the justice to insert its account of the matter, we claim the same candor in return. The real fact is at once interesting and important. The Irish Fenians have derived from their Phoenician ancesters the secret of invisibilty. Fern seed is said to possess this virtue, out, as with many other charms, the question is how to use it.

The classical reader will remember that it was on Carthagenian, that is, Phomician soil, that a lady met Eneas, and kindly conveyed him and all the sailors of his ship, invisible to the very presence of the Queen and her court. On a previous occasion his life we believe, had been saved in much the same convenient manner. The New York Herald under states the number, probably from distrusting the power of mere organization to conceal so great a movement. It's only adding a cipher. There are 650,000. Whether they rub the charm on the soles of their feet or take it in their whisky, they neighbors and their own mothers and brothers. Their arms are equally invisible, as are also the horses, the artillery, the baggage-wagons, and all the other necessaries of war so liberally supplied by their Fenian triends in the United States. Nobody can form the least conception of the splendid military spectacles to be witnessed on the mountains and bogs of Ireland if one could

You drive through Conneldara, and only remember to have seen oue old woman in a length of twenty miles; but there are a hun-dred thousand Feuians maneuvering, atdred thousand remains the tacking, retreating, and performing the tacking, retreating, and performing the nicest evolutions on all sides of you. Their bayonet charges are terrible. But for breaking the charm, they would make a pincushion of you. The most wonderful part of it remains to be told. When the Feniau has rubbed his foot, or moistened his throat, he becomes two men. His ordinary natural conservation of the charge of the dinary natural carca-s still goes on its old work, digging in potatoes, driving the 112s home, smoking a pipe, telling old stories, or reading the Galway Vindicator or the charging in liue tiring voiley, and performing prodigies of valor and discipliue. It is said that if you challenge them by blowing a trumpet or living a gnm, they will just answer to show they are there, but will not care to do more, as it is business, not pleas-

This, too, explains what has been done with the immense sums of money sub-scribed by the American Fenians. The "Head Center," "State Centers," and "Cir-"Head Center," "State Centers," and "Cir-cle Centers" tell the anxious subscribers that the arms are all ready to be sent over as soon as a war can be got up. The fact is they are already in Ireland, though, for the reasons we have stated, nobody has yet seen either them or their bearers, or is at all like ly to see them. The American Fenians may take our word that their money had not been squandered in the salaries of "Centers," the maintenance of Fenian hotels, or in paying for monster advertisements in the New York Herald. It is all history and blazing and thundering and their salary in the New York Herald. shining, and blazing, and thundering away in the training of the great army which is one day to camp on the Curragh, if not Aldershott itself. It is true we don't see chear it; but that is the wonderful efficacy the Phoenican secret we have mentio above, and which constitutes the reastrength of Fenianism.

Hotels in America. There is no end to the difference of opin ion between those who approve the Euro-pean plan of hotel-keeping, and those who prefer the American. The arguments in favor of one and the other are manifold, and the conclusion is pretty much a matter of taste. In New York, one may find examples of both styles, and doubtless in some respects better examples than in any other city of the civilized world. For he tels, or grand inns, are an American speciality. The Fifth Avenue Hotel, in Nev viality. The Fifth Avenue Hotel, in New York, is a wonder to the world, especially at the dinner hour. Nothing like it is to be seen in any Enropean city. The Hoffman House, the Everett, the New York Hotel, and some others, have adopted what is called the European plan. The main point of difference is in the restaurant principle, where the traveler can order his meals at hours and times to suit himself, and can regulate the expense according to his wishes. regulate the expense according to his wishes. The new plan has its advantages. It is, however, to be remarked, that, in adopting this plan, the prices of the plates at the res-taurant table must not be too high. This has been the trouble with the Furopean plan, as sometimes tried before in this country. If the lowest rate at which a plain substantial meal can be procured in one of the houses on the new style, be actually a high as the full charge for dinner at the hotels on the old plan, then it is quite plain that travelers will prefer the old style.

The expenses of living, and living well, onght not to be higher in America than in two or three. On this system three persons order a fine variety. Instead of this, it is necessary here to order each dish for each person, and to pay the full price on the card. Nor are the prices sufficiently moderate to permit an extensive variety, except at very great expense. Where this system of high prices prevails, we are instinct. great expense. Where this system of high prices prevails, we are inclined to think that American travelels will prefer the oldfashioned hotels. At those it is greatly to be regretted that so much extravagance is visible in the mauners and customs of the 500 public. There are a great many people who seem to think it necessary to taste nearly everything in the bill of fare. Instead of ordering a good meal and eating it with thaukfulness, they waste enough for len good meals. This is a public wrong and not a mere private matter between the gnests and the landlord. It is what makes high prices at hotels necessary. The moderate and easily satisfied traveler has to pay for the waste of the reckless. The public have a right to complain of those who are the charge the strength of the reckless. thus thoughtless, and it is a good subject for moral reform, worthy the careful teaching of the press.—[N. Y. Jour. of Com.

the Individuality of the Armies of the East and West. From the New York World's Wash Cor. l Mead's army was composed of the most ouventional levie-Sherman's of the most individual. The army of the East was composed of citizens—that of the West of pioneers. A gentleman, so-called, would have preferred the display of Meade. His men had more readable faces, better characterization, and were less wild and outre in their expression. A pioneer would have most applauded the review of Sherman, because his men were hardier knotter and cause his men were hardier, knottier and wierder. Meade represented the army of wierder. Meade represented the army of the East, being a graceful and accomplished commander. Logan, and not Sherman, the West's representative soldier. The army of the West marched, as a rule, bet-ter than the East, if rigid mathem-tical time-keeping is the test of good training. Its constituents were, in physiognomy, just the men for dashing adventures, prolonged advances, and reckless fighting; but Mead's men hore the impress of intelligent Mead's men bore the impress of intellige patience like that which sat before Ric ond for four defeated years, and in the and had the pluck to pass over the bastions of Petersburg. The officers of Sherman were less punctilious in externals than those of Meade. His staff-officers were not so neatly garbed, his line-officers were more indifferent to their wardrobe. The West was the best army for a republic, the East for a standing army, and New York troops, generally speaking, were the best Meade had to show. Illinois troops, casually, re-marked, were the flower of Sperman's vetrans. The absence of cavalry, which would have quite embarrassed Sherman, so far as the spirit of his entertainment went, was made up by series of contrabauds, and many odd concomitants in the shape of unles, fowls and dogs, which the soldiers ook along. Sherman had less artillery han Meade. The battle-flags of both were equally riddled. Harmony prevailed among the partisans of both armies. The country was proud of them. Their deeds are alike; their fames are equal; their reviews were the most wonderful panorama in American history.

Couldn't Throw Him.

A writer in the Chlcago Visitor relates the llowing story: The village of Georgetown, Ohio, where spent a part of their boyhood, the arrival of a show of any kind was a great event, and the one with which my story is connected was a circus. People came from every part of the country, in all kind of conveyonces, to see the wonderful feats. To the boys, the pony and the monkey were the great objects of attraction. The boys and the moukey, as if enjoying peculiar favors, were permitted to ride the pony. This pony was well trained to perform his part. On the occasion of which I speak, after the pony and money had performed to the great delight of the spectators, the manager sked if there was not a boy who would like to ride the pony. The word had no ike to ride the pony, The word had no oner been spoken, than out stepped a good sized boy from the country, and took his seat upon the pony. The pony under-stood well the part to be performed now, and as soon as he was turned into the ring, egan running at the top of his speed, and rear and kick as high as he could; the Grant. He was much smatler in size than the boy who ljust been thrown by the pony. manager placed young Grant upon the back of the pony. Ulysses took the reins in behind the shoulder blades of the pony. He seemed to comprehend the situation. The manager, seeing his composure and self-reliance thought he would give liance, thought he would give the pony a trial of what he must do. So he gave him a smart crack of the whip, and away he went at the top of his speed, now rearing so high as to be nearly erect on his hind-feet, then kicking up so high as to be perpendicular apon his fore feet; but Ulysses never last for a moment his equilibrium. The pony, inding he could not unhorse him in way, ran around the ring at the top of his peed, and then suddenly wheeled about. ut the rider was not taken by surprise; he nrew both arms tightly about the neck of ne pony, and stuck to him, amidst the great heering of the crowd. The pony could no nore throw him from his back, than he more throw him from his back, than he could the monkey. He "fought it out on that line," as much as in taking Richmond and Vicksburg. Whatever Ulysses S. Grant indertook to do, he did. SUMMER FRUITS .- Acids promote the sep aration of the bile from the blood, which is then passed from the system, thus preventing fevers, the prevailing diseases of summer. All fevers are "bilious," that is, the bile is in the blood. Whatever is antagonistic of fever is cooling. It is a common saying that fruits are "cooling," and also berries of every description. It is be-cause the acidity which they contain aids in separating the bile from the blood, that is, aids in purifying the blood. Hence the great yearning for greens and lettuce, and alads in the early spring, these being eaten vith vinegar; hence, also, the taste for omething sour-for lemons—on an attack fever. But this being the case, it is easy see that we nullify the good effects of ruits and berries in proportion as we eat them with sugar, or even sweet milk or cream. If we eat them in their natural cream. If we eat them in their natural state—fresh, ripe, perfect—it is almost impossible to eat too many—to ent enough to hurt us—especially if we eat them alone, not taking any liquid with them whatever.

SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS.-We have heard Sic Semper Tyrannis.—We have heard of numerous ridiculous translations of this Latin sentence, uttered by Booth immediately after assassinating President Lincoln; but the following, supposed to have been given in testimony by a witness in the trial now going on in Washington, is the latest: Judge Holt—Mr. Murphy, were you at Ford's Theater on the night of the assassinguistics?

A correspondent of the Tribune, writing rom Orangeburg, S. C., says: The hopeless apathy of the poor whites, which is described by officers and refugees as something appalling, renders the planters disposed to do the best they can with the blacks; but there are large numbers who evidently intend to do as the Jamaica whorever discounted to the freed slaves unput the state of the state planters did—swindle the freed slaves un-der any and every pretext. Their conver-sation shows it. Unless all South Carollan garrisoned by anti-slavery troops, this ate will either become a desert by the desertion of the laborers or pass into other mands. It is very desirable for the good of all parties that it should change owners for the planter that he may learn to work for his own living; for the black that he may become an honest laborer, which under the present capitalists he has no induce-ment to become; for the poor white that he may have and see an apportunity to rise In the social scale. No man in the North who has not lived among these plauters cau un-derstand what a brutal and vicious class of persons they are. The New York Five coints could turn out at random a more inellectual and as moral looking a delegation any day as I have seen here in conference with Gen. Hartwell.

Secretary Stanton. We do not take up a Copperhead paper now-a-days that does not contain a studied, malignant and mendacious attack on Mr. Stanton, the Secretary of War. Some of these distribes are merely abusive and de-nunciatory, others specify what are claimed to be his offenses; but all are false. There is one explanation of all these objurgations of this most valuable and efficient officer; and that is this: he has been largely instru-mental in putting down the rebellion. His wal has never been queuched in indifference, his energy has never tired, and his has been as energetic against the skulking and cowardly home traitors as against Jeft. Davis in the rebel Cabinet, or General Lee of the field, hence the wailings and cursings of which he is the object. Mr. Stanton, re-using at first to wear it, has finally carved the name-Carnor, Organizer of Victory the copperheads strike at him in vain. Chlcago Tribune.

THE PUBLIC DEET OF MEXICO .- The new Superor of Mexico starts with a respecta-de untional debt. The annual interest payable thereou amounts to about $20,000,000. not including the annual charge for sink-ing funds,) but the entire annual income of onsiderably under $10,000,000, and there-ore, is inadequate to pay half the interest on that debt. If applied towards that purpose, there would not remain one dollar to defray the cost of maintaining the Government, supporting the army, and carrying on the war. The whole debt of Mexico amounts to over $817,000,000-of which the greater part is owing in Europe, the six per cent, internal Mexican debt being no nore than thirty-five millious of dollars. old English three per cent. loan; twenty live millions of three per cent, stock, creat-ed in 1864 for the settlement of over due compons of the old foreign loan; thirty milons for admitted claims of foreigners, earing interest at slx per cent.; sixty-live allions due to France for war expenses up the 31st of March, 1865, and five millions of interest thereupon to be annually paid; sixty-two millions for the Anglo-French boan of 1864; and fifty million dollars for the six per cent lottery loan of 1865, wholly taken up in France, because of the British law against lotteries and gambling. The total mational indebtedness of Mexico, herefore, execeds $316,000,000; the interes payable on this amounts to $21,000,000; the enlire revenue of the country, from all or-dinary sources, is much below $10,000,000, or half the interest on the debt, without caving a single dollar to maintain the Gov rument and support the army .- [Pitts.

PAUPERISM IN ENGLAND.—The Poor Law Returns for England and Wales, made under the orders of the government, and published by command of the House of Commons, show a condition of affairs in what gland," which is painful to contemplate, These returns, from 655 places in England and Wales, show that out of a population of nearly twenty millions there are over one million paupers living upon the means of the rate-payers, and that fifty per cent. of that humber are able-bodied. Moreover though the sum of $80,000,000 is annually spent for panpers, police, public justice, and private benevolence, there are 130,000 known criminals living to prey upon the rest of the community. The average wages of an agricultural laborer is only $2.25 a week in England, and about $1.75 in Wales, Vet one-fortisth of the whole rest in line. Yet one-fortieth of the whole population of these countries, being half the paupers there, are able-bodied men who caunot obtain work, even at $1 75 to $2 25 per week.

THE DUMMY ENGINE IN MASSACHUSETTS THE DUMMY ENGINE IN MASSACHUSETTS. The Chelsea Pioneer gives an interesting account of a trip to Lynn, last week, on the Lynn and Boston Horse Cars, with a dummy eugine for the motive power. The eugine worked to perfection, being entirely under the control of the engineer to start, stop, slack or increase the speed at pleasure. The only draw back was in the collection. The only draw back was in the rolls, which, on a position of the track, between Chelsen and North Chelsen are not adapted to the car. At North Chelsea, an additional car was hitched on and lilled with passengers. As the dumny and cars approached Lynn, at a rapid rate, the luhabitants along the line halled the new comer with delight. The horses were somewhat fearful at first but appeared to come rapidly to the conclusion that there was no danger to be appre-

It is possible for three persons to dine together in Europe and eat a very fine meal, at a cost of not over seven france each. But the American-European plan

There is one element of civilization in which our country is far behind the rest of the world, and that is ln facilities for baththe world, and that is in facilities for bathing. In none of our cities are there public baths at all commensurate with the needs of the lababitants. There is danger that, unless this want be speedily supplied, we shall obtain the enenviable reputation of being the dirtiest nawon in Christendom. We are not only lamentably below our comporaries in this respect, but even the ancients excelled us. In Greece, bathing houses were attached to the schools, and immense public baths were to be found in immense public baths were to be found in all the chief c'ties. The immense thermae of Rome, the ruins of which still astonish the traveler, are well known. Pompei was a small provincial town of not half the importance to the Roman Empire that Louisville is to the United States, and yet the re-mains of one of her public bathing estab-lishments cover an area of ten thou-and

Square feet.
But this was nothing to the magnificent edifices used for the purpose of bathing in the imperial capital itself. The baths of Caracalla were fifteen hundred feet in length by twelve hundred and fifty in width. In the baths of Diocletian the swimming basin was two hundred feet long and handred feet broad. In all the cities one hundred feet broad. In all the other and towns of England and the continent, bathing establishments exist, where baths can be obtained at prices which bring them within the reach of the poorer classes. Even the semi-population of Asia rejoice in their public baths, the splendor of which puts to shame the more enlightened communities of the earth.

unities of the earth. It is not necessary in this place to dwell upon the hygienic advantages of bathing. In our hot summers it is absolutely necessary to the maintenance of health, and at any season of the year it is calculated to the property of the property trengthen the physical functions. If every town had its public baths, frequented by the mass of the people, we should soon become a hardier race than we are. Nor is it necessary to dwell upon the pleasures of the bath. The delightful sensations, the the bath. The delightin sensations, the exquisite softness of the skin, the renewed vitality of the frame, the keen feelings of animal vivacity which follow immersion in water are known to every one. Our streams which, unlike those of the Old. World, are easily accessible, fulfill to some extent the wants of the public during the warm season of the year. But in winter there is absolutely no place where all the people can, at a cheap rate, indulge in what ought to be onsidered one of the absolute necessities

The consequence is, that in our latitude the great mass of the community-em-bracing all those who do not have private baths in their houses-content themselves by remaining dirty. For the hand-basin, however freely its contents may be used, can never answer the purposes of immersion. In our crowded assemblages, such as a political mass meeting, for instance, foreigners easily detect that 'noisome efflu-via which arises from "the great un-washed," who constitute the bulk of our opulace. We are perhaps too accustomed out to distinguish it so readily.

The question of the war will leave a considerable amount of ardent philanthropy without any object upon which it can expand its energies. Let a portion of it be devoted to the tusk of providing for the men and women and children of America the means of exercising one of the first rights of a human being—the right to keep inself clean. Here is a splendid openln for reformers. Here is a magnificent op-portunity for the display of zeal. Here i chance for agitation, which may result in iriving the unclean spirit out of a whole

BALSAM OF WEDLOCK.—The Arel's possess a wise practice in proceeding for divorce. When married people seek a separation, the Cadi orders them to live for some time with a discretand austere man of the tribe, that he latter may examine their life and see on which side the blame lies. The elderly man makes a report at the expiration of the ap-pointed time, and this report is the founda-tion on which the Cadi builds his jndgment of divorce. Experience has demonstrated nat tuere is no better method of restoring in families. The linsband and wife put thus upon their good behavior, resume the manners of court-days. Each strives o be more amiable than the other, to con vince the "elder of Israel" that it is no one's fault if the honeymoon changed its quarter. Old love is awakeued, and the pair that went to the approved man's tent pariing like cat and dog, return home coo-

SKILLED LABOR FROM ENGLAND. - The English papers are noting the heavy emigration from the mining districts of that country to this, and recognizing it as of the nature of a public calamity. The skilled and comparatively independent miners of South Wales, where there are famous treasures of iron, copper, and coal, are coming here in greater strength than ever before. "It is beginning," says the London Times, "to be a frequent occurrence for forty or lifty hands to leave at every pay-day from the principal iron and coal works of the This is the most valuable clas of emigrants that rench our shores, and we

A MINISTER AND HIS SALARY.-Some rears ago a minister of some talents, hav-ng preached to a congregation five years and falled to get his salary, placed his claim in the hands of an officer of the law. Not very long after some half a dozen preachvery long after some half a dozen preachers, who were attending a protracted meeting, were discussing the matter, and they agreed that the brother had done very wrong. One of the number suggested: "The laborer is worthy of his hire." Au old minister replied: "Sir, I admit that the laborer is worthy of his hire, provided he does good work, but if a man preaches to a congregation five years, and does not teach them common honesty, he has no right to any pay." right to any pay."

The New York Tribune says the number of alien immigrants landed in that city be-tween the 1st of January last and the 31st of May, inclusive, is 50,047 against 68,078 in 1864. For various reasons, the number of immigrants arriving prior to the 1st of May last, showed a considerable falling off a compared with the corresponding period of last year; but since that date the arrivals have been heavy from Liverpool, Glasgow, Queenstown, Bremen, and Hamburg, aver-aging nearly one thousand persons per day. The cause of the augmentation has been not so much the idea of returning peace, sufficient time not yet having elapsed for it to become thoroughly circulated in Europe, as the inducement of high wages and that of free homesteads held out by the United States Government through the new bureau of immigration.

Coming to it .- The New Orleans Delta relates that a social party was given in Mobile a few evenings since, to which were highlighted a number of both Union and Confederate officers. In the early part of the evenlng, an evident restraint hung over the assemblage, and anything but a pleas-ant time was in prospect. At last the brave rebel Colonel—, of the—st Ala-bama, proposed a song, and upon being pressed to start one, he broke forth in that silring national air, "The, Star Spangled Banner." After a few moments of blank nended from their iron brother. One hnudred and filty passengers were carried over the road this trip.

Banner." After a few moments of blauk astonishment, the whole party, Union and rebel, Joined in, and the utmost good feeling and joviality prevalled from that thme forth until the breaking day warned the interpy company to disperse to their separate abodes. The good fruits that may spring from this little incident are incalculable.

It is reported that a heavy immigration to the United States has set in from the Canadas. In some sections it is said that fully one-third of the people are leaving. In the eastern part of Lower Canada families are leaving by the dozens, while a similar hegira exists in the lower provinces.

Within a few weeks 150 persons left the village of Belleville.

position. This is strange from those who admit his inferiority. If he is inferior, the interests of both the white and black races demand that the laws shall conform to and proceed upon the actual fact, and not upon visionary and impossible hypothesis.—

Why so? What necessity is there that the laws should take any notice of the inferiority or superiority of persons to one another? Are there no gradations of tal-

If the blacks are to be held under everlasting proscription, on account of their inferiorty, then let us have the manliness and consistency to make this, and not color the test of availability for equal rights before test of availability for equal rights before the law. There are a good many colored men in this country, who in no one parti- recollect that others conceive their interests cular of talent or culture, are a whit iufe- at stake.' rior to the editor of the Democrat. Now, if it is so important that laws should "conform" to this "actual fact," why does not the ditor demand that such shall be forthwith invested with all the privileges enjoyed by himself?

Not by gives any valid reason why the less imbecility. And in such cases the laws of most Christian nations, so far as they meddle with the question at all, are so rather than perpetual degradation to the rather than perpetual degradation to the imbeciles. It is impossible to buse any argument for the savage codes of the slave States upon fundamental principles. Every attempt to do so ends in a reductio ad absurdum. The petrified fossils who still continue to advocate slavery and try to resist what is irresistable, the speedy and perfect consummation of freedom in this conutry. summation of freedom in this country, should spend all their time and energy in numbering 17,813, who would bring but litsimply "cussin" abolitionism. They are helpless and become 'orthwith stifled and confused in the domain of logic. They are at sea without rudder or compass, in attempting to reason the case. Execration is their forte. It is too late, to be sure, to accomplish anything even in that line. But it is a line that may coutinue to furnish amusement and occupation. Whilst no other method of defense has this advantage.

IMPUDENT TO THE LAST.

A writer in the London News, who acted upon the advice of an "able international lawyer' and invested in the Confederate cotton bonds, endeavors to comfort himself and his fellow-bondholders with the assurance that the North will act from a "high sense of justice towards neutrals, and, if necessary, they will parcel this debt out among certain States lately confederated, and tax the export of cotton until every shilling of the debt is discharged." The coolness of this proposition is decidedly refreshing. These honest "neutrals" who turnished the releast with money to procure freshing. These honest "neutrals" who turnished the rebels with money to procure cannon and other materials of war to over-throw the National Government, and to fit out pirate ships to destroy the commerce of the nation, now that the Confederacy is crushed and their creditor is annihilated without leaving either executor or assets to meet its liabilities, innocently call upon the party for whose destruction they leut their money to come forward and as an "act of justice" assume and pay the debts of the rebels. Could John Bull verdancy and presumption go any further than this? They will next ask the United States Government to pay for the Alabama, which the Kearsarge not having the interests of these innoceut "neutrals" in view, was so inconsiderate as to send to the botton of the cean.-[Boston Journal. Impudence-cool flouting of the universal sense of justice and propriety prevalent in Chistendom-was the key-note and the one unvarying characteristic of the slaveholders' rebellion. The rebellion commenced in the preposterous assumption that its actors and instigators were somehow oppressed, and were in the pursuit of liberty under despotic difficulties.

It was put fairly and fully under way by men holding, under solemn oaths of fealty, high and responsible places in the Government. Conceived in a gigantic falsehood, inaugurated by manifold and unparalleled treachery, it was conducted through to a beneficent chaos, by a hardihood of impudence bordering as closely upon the sublime as such a sentiment could. It rallied early to its support the (so-called) religious leaders of the South (whose theology had been already transformed into diabolism by the monstrous attempt to reconcile American Slavery with the teachings and spirit of our Lord) and pulpit, press and politicians in rebeldom were incessant in their appeals to heaven, and in mutual assurances that God was with them. This brazen infection seems to have kept pace everywhere with rebel sympathy. We understand this in Kentucky all-too well. Our home rebels coolly demanded the protection of the Government while they could carry forward their quiet little schemes of insurrection and bloodshed, by way of co-operation with the movemenis at Richmond.

In short, the whole rebellion from beginning to end, in lts deeds, its manifestoes. and its literature, was the most stupendous display of impudence to be found in all discussion of these topics will enhance the interest of the subject with a class of students who might be repelled by a treatise exclusively mathematical. more probable event need be anticipated | maxe-tf

THE DATLY PRESS than the alliance of these with Northern mallgnants, in the refreshingly cool demand that the rebel debt shall be assumed by the Government.

THIRD SERIES OF 7-30 NOTES NOW READY.

The rush at the Treasury Department for the second series of 7-30's was so great that it was found impossible to supply orders as fast as presented, one hundred millions besides as presented, one hundred millions besides as presented as pr ing subscribed in one week. The presses of the establishment, by extra efforts, have not only finished the printing of these, but on June 7th, had a good supply of the third series ready for delivery, and will be able to supply them with promptness, thus in future having plenty of notes on hand ready for de ivery to small takers, who prefer to have them when they pay their money. There is hardly a doubt of the sales soon amounting to millions weekly, for the public rightly belive no better securities will ever be offered. And now is the moment to subscribe, for only two hundred millions remaiu-a sum that will soon be absorbed, as the opening of the farmer's Contracts have been made for the building and materials here, and the entire ontlay for the construction will be expended with our mechan and machinists. The enterprise is an un-dertaking of old and reliable parties who have been for years engaged in this vici ty in like business and enterprise. The company will be known as "Kentucky Bourbon Company" Distillery.

It is scarcely creditable whether to the taste or the benevolence of our citizens, that so meagre an audience was present last night at the opening entertainment of the series gotten up for the benefit of the St. Vincents' Orphan Asylum. Those who kept away, unless from the motive of necessitated economy, lost as well the opportunity to merit mercy, by showing mercy as they did the pleasures which they could not but have derived from witnessing so delightful an entertainment. The music was superb, and the tableaux both well gotten up and pleasantly rendered. We trust that the two remaining entertainments did the pleasures which they could

THE VETERANS

We commence this morning the pub-cation of "brief notes" of the history of the different regiments in the grand army that has been lately operating with the invincible Sherman. We commence with the First Brigade of the First Division of the Fifteenth Army Corps.

FIRST BRIGADE. The first brigade, first division, fifteenth army corps, commanded by Brigadier General William B. Woods, late colonel sevenerai William B. Woods, late colonel seventy-sixth Ohio veteran Infantry, was first organized about the 15th of Angust, 1863, at Camp Sherman, Miss., and was composed of the following regiments: seventy-sixth Ohio infantry, thirteenth regiment Illinois infantry, third, twelfth and seventeenth Misscuri infautry, twenth-fifth and thirty-first Iowa infantry, and was commanded by Brigadier General Charles R. Woods.

This brigade, since its organization, has

This brigade, since its organization, has participated in the following engagements, viz. Battles of Lookont Mountain, Mission Ridge and Ringgold, Resacca, Dullas, Kenesaw Mountain, seige of Atlanta, including the battles of the 22d and 28th of July, bat-tle of Jonesboro and Griswoldville, seige of wannah and battle of Bentonville, North

This brigade was commanded by Colone Milo Smith, twenty-sixth Iowa infantry, from Angust 23d, 1864, to January, 23d, 1865, when its present commander joined it. This brigade at present is composed of the blowing regiments: Fourth Minnesota reteran infantry, seventy-sixth Ohio veter an infantry, ninth Iowa veteran infantry thirty-first lowa infantry, ninety-third llli ois infantry and the consolidated battal is of the thirty-first and thirty-second fissonri infantry.

The following is a list of the staff officers Captain Jacob A. Jury, A. A. A. G.; -Captain Reason C. Strong, A. A. I. G.; First Lientenant Robert B. Williamson, A. A. Q. M.; First Lieutenant William C. Klnney, vid-de-camp. NINTH 10WA. This regiment was raised by Colonel Wm. Vandever, member of Congress from Iowa, and organized at Dubuque on the 24th day of September, 1861. The original neld officers were Col. Wm. Vandever, since apointed Brigadier General, and now con nanding in the fourteenth army corps, ientenant Colonel Frank J. Herron, now Major General of volunteers, commanding the thirteenth army corps in Texas; and Major Win. H. Coyl, since promoted to Lientenant Colonel of the regiment. Immediately after its organization the regiment was ordered to St. Lonis, thence to Example 10. Franklin, Mo., where it remained guarding railroads and hunting guerrillas till ordered to join the "Army of the Sonthwest," under General Cartis, In the campaign against the rebel General Price, which ended in the hard-earned but signal victory of Pea Ridge of March 7, 1862, which cost the regiment a loss of two hundred and sixty-one officers and men killed and wounded, after a mos persistent and stubborn fight during the whole engagement. After a march thence o Helena, Ark., the regiment was assigned in December, 1862, to the first division of Sherman's fifteenth army corps, with which it has since marched and served in the six great campaigns of that eminent leader. MILITARY EXECUTION.-There were but ew persons admitted to the enclosure of the military prison yesterday afternoon to wit-ness the execution. It was announced that Marshal P. Stewart would be hung with John Lewis, but Monday morning a tele-graphic dispatch was received from the President respiting Stewart for ten days John Lewis was tried before a general court martial lu this city on the following harge and specification:

Charge-Murder. Specification-In this that he, John Lewis, private, Co. E, 13th Regiment U. S. C. V. H. A., did on or about the 14th day of May, 1865, at or near Shelbyville, Ky., willully, feloniously, and with malice aforethought, kill and innrder one Thomas McGrath, a peaceable citizen of said town and State, by shooting him, the said Thomas McGrath, with a gnu, from the effects of which shootng he, the said McGrath, died.

To which charge and specification the accused pleaded "not guilty." The Court, after hearing the evidence, found John Lewis guilty of the charge and specification, and sentenced him to be hung by the neck until dead, at such place as the commanding general might direct.

The proceedidgs of the court were arproved, and yesterday set upart for earryig into effect the sentence. The prisoner received spiritual consolu-tion from Chaplain Greeu, of the barracks, who has constantly attended him since he coanie aware of the fate that awaited him the professed religion, and seemed prepared to travel through the dark valley of the shadow of theath. His family—a wife and two children—were with him during Monday, and parted with him for the last time Monday afternoon. As the time approached for the execution ached for the execution ing the prison yard, and a hollow square formed around the scaffold. At leu minutes before 4 o'clock the prisoner appeared, companied by Chaplain Green and Capt W. Swope, and assistants. He wore ook of calm resignation, and walked with ont support. During his incarceration holost in flesh, and did not appear as healthy as when on trial. He paused at the foot of the scaffold and had his arms pinioned, and hen unfulteringly ascended the steps. On reaching the platform he kneeled down and Chaplain Green offered a fervent prayer for the welfare of his sonl. Capt. Swop then read the proceedings of the court, to which the prisoner listened attentively. On being as ked if he had any thing to say, he responded in a low voice:

"I am prepared to die. I have placed my trust in God. I have been a very great sinder, but God has forgiven me through bring up her children to meet me is Heaven, and not be guilty of such a dread ful sin as the one I have been guilty of. am ready to go. The Lord will save me. He then prayed for two or three minutes out could not be understood. After he had concluded his prayer, he stepped upou the rap, where his legs were bound and the trap, where his legs were bound and the white cap drawn over his face. At a signal from Cs.pt. Swope the trap was sprung and the spirit of John Lewis fled from earth to appear before the Great Judge He died in about three minutes without a John Lewis was about twenty truggle. five years of age, of black complexion, with a downcast look. He was about five feet high; and, weighed perhaps one hundred and sixty pounds. He contessed to the chaplain that he had done wrong; but kill-ed McGrath through fear. He stated that he apprehended that he would be lynched and shot McGrath after he (McGrath) had turned to leave him.

We would call the attention of our merchants and business men to the adver-tisement of Dick Moore in another column. He will introduce a new way of advertisin; on Monday by starting a wagon to and through the various camps. DISORDERLY OFFICERS.—George Brown, Second Lientenant co. K, Twelfth Wisconsin, and John Gulbher. First Lieutenant co. F, Oue Hundred and Eighty-seventh Ohio, were very drunk and disorderly in the upper part of the city yesterday. When remonstrated with by the gnard they were very insolent and abusive, and swore they would not be arrested. Lieutennut Brown struck the guard a very severe blow, and struck the guard a very severe blow, and nearly knocked him down. The guard at-tempted to shoot him, but his gun would not go off. He then struck the Lieutenant over the head several times, and compelled him to go with him. This beautiful pair of officers were placed in confinement at the Barracks. Their conduct was disgraceful, and we hope the authorities will not let the matter rest until they are both dismissed he service they have so outrageously dis

LARGE FIRE .- Last evening at a quarter past ten o'clock a fire broke out in the large wholesale drug store of R. A. Robinson & Co., on Main street, between Fifth and Sixth. It was first discovered by Officer Antle, who gave the alarm. Before the engines could arrive at the spot, the fire had gained considerable headway. The fire-men went to work with a will but were unable to subdue the flames. The inside of the whole building was entirely burnt out, and the immense stock of drugs, oils, paints, &c., either destroyed by fire or water. The fire must have been buruing some time before discovered, as the walls and windows were very hot when the alarm was first

Owing to the lateness of the hour we are unable to ascertain the amount of loss, but it must be very great—at least $75,000. We trust that the two remaining entertainments (that of to-night and to morrw night) will make up in the andiences which they will attract to the hall, for the miserable attendance of last evening.

Hoge, Resaca, Danies, Atlatoona, Renesaw Monntain, Atlanta, iucluding the battles of believe the building and stock were partially covered by insurance. At the time of our going to press the fire was still raging, but the fire department had it confined to the building of R. A. Robinson.
